

I am strongly against mandating programming for radio stations. That is tampering with my choices. I like Christian radio just the way it is, it is funded by donations which tell that there are so many people that like it too and want it. It should not be changed or burdened with extra regulations just to use the airwaves. The mandating programming would take away my choice. If someone wants to listen to something else, let them use their finger and go to another station. There are too many stations that do not reflect my morals and offend me with every word that comes across the airwaves, including their advertising. I will defend and uphold my right to choice which is freedom. Something that was paid for with blood and is very valuable. Please do not discount that, honor it because it is what defines this country. We compromise too much and water down morals already. I want to the right to choose what I listen to and since there nothing worthwhile to listen to besides Christian radio, I will never stand for that right to be compromised.
